

Container & Content – Part 2

Basics of Visceral Manipulation in the Context of Rolfing / SI

Workshop with Konrad Obermeier

September 27th to 29th 2024 in Zürich

- The visceral anatomy and its embryological development
- Review the most central techniques presented in Part 1 and refine our approach
- Introduce the basis for “general listening” and refine our approach, our diagnostic, palpatory and treating potential
- Breathing as the central muscular activity generating visceral mobility and influencing structural deviations
- Clarify the relationship between intra-peritoneal and retro-peritoneal structures
- Discuss the function of the iliacus & Psoas and their relationship to the space of the kidneys
- Review our assessment of sphincters
- introduce additional techniques for mobilizing intra-abdominal and intra-thoracic structures and apply these techniques to different visceral structures

It is good to do Part 1 before Part 2 but it is not mandatory.
